

Applying Psychological First Aid

Preparing school leaders for disasters

headspace invites school leaders to a webinar on Applying the Psychological First Aid Framework to disaster preparation and response.

The Applying the Psychological First Aid (PFA) Framework training equips school leaders with the knowledge and skills to support the wellbeing of students, staff and families before, during and after a disaster or significant event.

When

This workshop is available on multiple dates throughout November and December 2026

Where

Online via Microsoft Teams

This session will cover:

- Understanding PFA and its role in school disaster preparedness and response.
- Recognise common reactions that students, staff and families may experience following a disaster or other significant event.
- Learn how to apply PFA principles and actions to support both whole-school response efforts and staff wellbeing.

How to register

Click here or scan the QR Code to register and explore upcoming workshop dates.

For more info, please contact:

Prepare&Care@headspace.org.au headspace National Youth Mental Health Foundation is funded by the Australian Government.