Applications are now open for the:

headspace Bondi Junction Youth Reference Group

Are you aged between 16 and 25 and live in the Eastern Suburbs? Do you have something to say about health, mental health and drug and alcohol issues?

What is the headspace Bondi Junction Youth Reference Group (YRG)?

headspace Bondi Junction supports people aged 12-25 with mental health, physical health, alcohol or drugs and vocational services. The YRG provides an opportunity to be a voice for youth mental health. The group is a diverse team of young people providing consultation and guidance to headspace Bondi Junction to maintain our centre's youth focus. Projects include:

- ◆ Sharing about headspace services at community events, and school and university talks
- ◆ Provide social media consultation and development
- ◆ Help young people, family and friends access youth specific information and headspace services
- ◆ Provide input to resource development (e.g. brochures), centre processes and services
- ◆ Partner with local organisations and community members headspace Bondi Junction will provide training to support these projects. This is a voluntary position and meetings are on the first and third Wednesday of each month, from 5pm—7pm.

By getting involved you will:

- ◆ Develop new skills
- ◆ Meet and work with other passionate young people
- ◆ Make a difference to youth mental health
- ◆ Influence and support the running of the headspace centre
